LONG BIO

320 WORDS

Five musicians, one shared passion and plenty of energy: that is INOXIUS. Founded in 2023, the hard rock band from the Bern and Solothurn regions writes its own songs and has a clear vision for its music: honest, powerful and full of emotion. Above all, the musicians are united by their love of rock and their desire to share it with as many people as possible.

Musically, INOXIUS moves between classic and modern hard rock. Driving guitar riffs meet groovy drum beats, distinctive bass lines and emotive vocals. Catchy melodies and occasional darker influences give the songs their own character. The band values varied arrangements and an interplay in which every instrument has its place.

A major milestone was the release of the debut EP “Breaking Out of Hell” on 4 July 2025. For the production, INOXIUS worked with renowned producer Dennis Ward, known for his work with Krokus, Helloween, Angra and Firewind, among others. This collaboration allowed the young band to realise its musical ideas at a professional level.

The second EP, “Not Your Slave”, followed on 23 October 2026. Its five songs showcase different sides of the INOXIUS sound – from driving hard rock tracks to more emotional and atmospheric moments. The band also worked with Dennis Ward on this release, with Ward responsible for mixing and mastering.

Alongside studio work, the stage is an essential part of INOXIUS. This is where the direct connection with the audience takes centre stage. With joy, passion and an energetic performance, the five musicians aim to draw people into their music and make every concert a memorable experience.

For INOXIUS, everything achieved so far is only the beginning. The band continues to work on new songs, broaden its musical horizons and bring its music to more stages. Through it all, the greatest motivation remains the same: making music together that excites people and is fun to play. Young, Loud and Hungry!
